

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method of marking an initial defective block in a semiconductor memory device having a memory area thereof divided into a plurality of 5 blocks and provided with an ECC function includes the steps of detecting an initial defective block; and writing an ECC code causing an ECC error in a predetermined area of the initial defective block.

2025 RELEASE UNDER E.O. 14176